Any unauthorized copying of the class materials or recording of lectures is a violation of federal law and may result in disciplinary actions being taken against the student. Additionally, the sharing of class materials without the specific, express approval of the instructor may be a violation of the University's Student Honor Code and an act of academic dishonesty, which could result in further disciplinary action. This includes, among other things, uploading class materials to websites for the purpose of sharing those materials with other current or future students.

Course Description

In this course, we will be learning how to identify, analyze, and evaluate arguments. We will begin by discussing what critical thinking is and why we should improve our ability to do it. Since critical thinking concerns arguments, the bulk of the course will focus on reconstructing arguments and learning how to diagnose them. Topics to be covered include argument patterns, argument types, fallacies, introductory formal logic, probabilistic reasoning, and inference to the best explanation.

Learning Objectives

Upon completing this course, students will be able to (i) identify the difference between deductive and inductive arguments, (ii) assess the former for validity and soundness, the latter for strength, (iii) identify argument patterns, (iv) diagnose their own thoughts, (v) reason better, (vi) manage their studies in a responsible and timely manner.

Required Textbook

From 09/09/2015, students must bring the following textbook to class:

- 'The Power of Critical Thinking: Effective Reasoning about Ordinary and Extraordinary Claims', 4th edition, by Lewis Vaughn (Available from the campus book store as well as online retailers)
- (Note also the useful companion website for the book:
<http://global.oup.com/us/companion.websites/9780199856671/student/>)

Course Website

There is both a Blackboard site and website for this course (link on first page). Clicking the first link on the left panel within the Blackboard site will bring you to the course website. All assignments will be submitted through Blackboard. Readings, notes, etc. will be posted on the course website. Note that Blackboard difficulties are rare and automatically reported to instructors. Under no circumstance will a student's report of a Blackboard difficulty be reason for an extension. It is your responsibility to contact Blackboard support for help.

Requirements

- Workload: Expect to spend an average of 5–6 hours per week completing the readings and assignments.
- 6 Problem Sets administered through Blackboard. First problem set due in Week 3. Begin problem sets once they are available and modify/complete over the availability period.
- 2 Exams: There is an open-book in-class mid-term and cumulative take-home final.
- Attendance: Roll call will be taken. 0.5 point will be awarded per class up to a maximum of 10 points. Points will not be awarded during weeks 1 & 2.
- Grade Distribution: 6 Problem sets—10 points each (60 total); Mid-term—20; Final—20; Attendance—0.5 point per class (10 total).
- Grade Breakdown:

87–89	B+		70–72	C-
83–86	B		60–69	D
80–82	B -		0–59	F

Policies

- Student Responsibility: This syllabus outlines the required text, assignments, requirements, and policies for this course. By taking this course, you agree to read this syllabus and be bound by those requirements and policies.
- Academic Integrity: All the work you turn in (including papers, drafts, and discussion board posts) must be written by you specifically for this course. It must originate with you in form and content with all contributory sources fully and specifically acknowledged. Being a student at NJCU requires you to follow NJCU's Academic Integrity Policy. Penalties for violations are as follows: 1st infraction will result in a 0 for the assignment. 2nd infraction will result in a 0 for the entire course & application for permanent record on student's transcript. (Repeated violations can lead to expulsion from NJCU).
- Attendance: You are considered absent if you are (i) not present during roll call, (ii) leave early, (iii) leave without permission, or (iv) leave for an extended period of time. No excuses. No exceptions.
- Communication: To comply with Federal Privacy Laws (FERPA) and NJCU policies, all communication will be through Blackboard and/or official NJCU e-mail. Check both your NJCU e-mail and Blackboard daily. For further information see <http://scoconno.github.io/Contact/>.
- Conduct: Distracting and disrespectful behaviors, including but not limited to eating, leaving your seat, talking out of turn, and aggression are prohibited. Penalties include, but are not limited to, a loss of attendance points for the day of violation. Repeat offenders will be reported to the Dean of Students.
- Electronic devices: Use of electronic device, including, but not limited, to smartphones, dictaphones, tablets, and laptops, is prohibited. Recording a lecture is in violation of Copyright. Penalties include, but are not limited to, a loss of attendance points for the day of violation. Repeat offenders will be reported to the Dean of Students.
- Grading: Grades will be available within 1 week of an assignment being submitted. See: <http://scoconno.github.io/Teaching/Grading> for further information.
- Late work & Make-up Policy: See the assignment schedule below. No make-ups or late work accepted under any circumstances. No exceptions. But note that there are 110 points available with 96+ being required for an A.
- Statement for students with disabilities: If you are a student with a disability and wish to receive consideration for reasonable accommodations, please register with the Office of Specialized Services and Supplemental Instruction (OSS/SI). To begin this process, complete the registration form available on the OSS/SI website at www.njcu.edu/Specialized_Services.aspx (listed under Student Resources-Forms).
