

GECAP!

The Director's decisions should not create by an executive backdoor the policies that only GECAP can create and propose to the Senate.

- Waiving remaining GenED requirements for students who will earn more than 120 credits if they complete those requirements establishes a programmatic change to the General Education Program. The Director cannot create such policy, e.g., difficulties with MSCHE.
- Waiving a specific requirement, e.g., Tier 3, for students who will earn more than 120 credits if they complete Tier 3 is also a programmatic change to the General Education Program.
- Waiving requirements for students who need those requirements waived to graduate by a certain date is also a programmatic change to the General Education Program.
- Waiving requirements for students with financial difficulties.
