Course Description

Aristotle's ethical theory has exerted a profound influence on the history of Western Philosophy. In this course we will aim to gain a comprehensive understanding of his ethics, focusing on its presentation in the Nicomachean Ethics. Central notions we will examine include happiness or human flourishing, virtue or excellence, responsibility, practical or moral wisdom, moral failure, friendship, and pleasure.

Learning Objectives

Upon completing this course, students will be able to (i) read philosophical texts, (ii) clearly and charitably explain viewpoints that are not their own, (iii) think critically and philosophically, (iv) write well-structured prose in which they clearly state a thesis and persuasively defend it, (v) demonstrate an understanding of Aristotle's ethics, (vi) manage their studies in a responsible and timely manner.

Required Textbook

Both texts are available in the campus book store and online retailers.

- 'Nicomachean Ethics', Aristotle, trans C.D.C. Reeve, Hackett Classics, (needed for every class)
