

Arguments for Realism

- Truthmaker considerations.
 - TM: Every truth has a truth maker, i.e., for every truth, there is some entity or entities that make it true.
 - (i) Some houses are red. (ii) Some books are heavy.
- The (Simple) One Over Many Argument
 - P1. There are red houses and red roses.
 - C. There is a universal, redness, that the houses and and roses instantiate.

The One Over Many Argument (Best version)

