

Similarities and Differences

- A ostrich nominalist claims that:
  - 1. There are mind-independent facts about ways in which things are both similar to and different from one another.
  - 2. These facts about similarity and differences have no explanation whatsoever.